With a high pace and aggressive attitude, Danish industrial metalcore quintet THE INTERBEING, are back with their huge, futuristic and eclectic universe. Gearing up for the release of their third full-length album 'Icon of the Hopeless', the band will be releasing a string of singles during 2022.

THE INTERBEING established a name for themselves on the industrial metal scene back in 2011, with the award-winning and highly acclaimed debut album 'Edge of the Obscure', followed by their sophomore album 'Among the Amorphous' in 2017.

After touring Europe and Japan with acts such as Twelve Foot Ninja, Parkway Drive, Meshuggah, and playing shows at festivals such as Copenhell, Hokuo Music Week, SXSW and Euroblast, the band began to focus on finishing their upcoming album. 'Icon of the Hopeless' unveils the great conclusion to the conceptual story of a 'being' that struggles with its creators in a dystopian parallel world, a story which listeners have followed since the debut album in 2011.

The third full-length album has been mixed and mastered by star producer Jacob Hansen (Amaranthe, Dizzy Mizz Lizzy, Volbeat) and is set to be released on November 18 through Prime Collective.
