

HALLOUMINATI

"Their E.P is a manic little morsel that will give you a taste of what they can do, but for the full head-spin intoxication experience, catch a live show and bring your dancing shoes (and possibly a towel)" - Electric Banana

" Shortly followed by another great underground find, Hallouminati, hailing from the dark depths of Derbies punk scene and setting the bar with a talented and bouncy set of Gypsy Ska with a traditional Greek twist at the Old Time Theatre" www.rhythmcircus.co.uk

"Over in Chinatown Hallouminati (8) blast out a set which will genuinely be the only time anyone will ever say 'mate that was a sick Bouzouki solo'., the combination was a flawless victory!" Virtual Festivals

Yasas traveller! Welcome to the weird, wonderful and downright perverse cooking pot that is HALLOUMINATI. Over the last couple of years they've been carefully blending their unique and high octane GYPSY/ PUNK/ SKA/ GREEK/ RAGGA/ELECTRO/SWING Mash-up and sweating it out for all to hear. Mixing the gritty realms of SKANKING RAGGA' PUNK with traditional GREEK REMBETIKO vibes, they're throwin' deranged beats for a unforgettable live show. Peek under the lid and you'll see it all bubbling under the surface; from GOGOL BORDELLO to A.D.F, MATISYAHU and a few good hunks of KING PRAWN dunked in BALKAN BEAT BOX, HALLOUMINATI are definitely worth sinking your teeth into. Incorporating twisted electronic beats and circus vibes that'd make Bozo the Clown strut his stuff, these nutcases refuse to stick to merely ticking off the generic boxes and do everything in their power to keep that party going.

Since 2010 they've made a dent on the live circuit with musical reputation and band punnery; Boat parties on the Thames, squats all over The Netherlands, Thousand strong crowds in Europe and countless, countless beer soaked watering holes across the country, they'll busk in the streets of Amsterdam with the same intensity and party vibes headlining THE BEAR ROCK Festival in Belgium. From entertaining the perplexed yet enthralled crowds at the Olympics in London to some of the most of-the-wall gypsy nights in the U.K including 'NA ZDROVE', 'MUZIKA!' , 'BALKANKAN', 'BALKANIC ERUPTIONS', 'STRANGER THAN PARADISE' as well as London's massive 'RUMPUS'. With their latest single 'S.P.A.M' out, air time and a firm foot in the Midlands party scene, Hallouminati have had a taste of the shows and now they want the whole bloody meal. Having left their mark on BOOMTOWN , BESTIVAL, KENDAL CALLING and all manner of shanty town festivals, they're setting up for one helluva summer!

If these boys and girls have got anything say, 2014 will be a year that will leave people stroking their beards, smashing plates and clothes spontaneously bursting off all who encounter this mighty sound. Yamas!
