

Dear organizers,

We want to express our heartfelt gratitude for inviting us to be a part of your event. To ensure that our time together is nothing short of amazing, we would like to share some important details about our preferences:

1. Creating a relaxed atmosphere: We believe in fostering a positive and relaxed environment. Typically, we require around half an hour for soundcheck, but if possible, we would be delighted to arrive a bit earlier. It would be ideal to have a break of at least thirty minutes or more between soundcheck and the concert, allowing us to recharge and deliver a stellar performance.
2. Backstage comfort: Having a comfortable backstage area would be a wonderful addition. A place where we can store our belongings, stay dry, and enjoy a pleasant temperature—neither too hot nor too cold. These little touches make a big difference for us!
3. Refreshments and snacks: We would greatly appreciate having access to refreshing water (tap water is perfectly fine) and some light snacks in the backstage area. Bananas, savory chips, or nuts would be fantastic options to replenish our energy before the concert. Of course, any local treats would be met with joyful enthusiasm!
4. Dietary considerations: Michal is a vegetarian, and Nina has a lactose intolerance. We are all intolerant of extreme left and right wing ideologies. We believe in promoting inclusivity and unity. Let's keep the focus on music and positive connections!
5. Wine enthusiasts: Tony and Michal would be overjoyed if you could arrange some white wine of moderate quality for them. It doesn't have to be extravagant—just something enjoyable to enhance their experience.
6. Coffee aficionados: We have a shared love for great coffee! Nina appreciates filtered coffee, while Michal enjoys soy lattes. Tony is content with whatever coffee is available. However, we understand that coffee may not always be readily available, and that's absolutely fine.
7. Refreshing facilities: The availability of shower facilities before or after the concert would be a wonderful luxury that we would greatly appreciate. However, no worries if this is not possible.
8. Accommodations, if applicable: We extend our sincere thanks for your assistance in arranging accommodations for us. We value a cozy and welcoming environment, and are open to either sharing a room or individual arrangements based on your convenience. Additionally, if a later checkout time, such as 11 am, could be arranged, we would be immensely grateful and consider you for the coveted Promoter of the Year award!

"Dude, we told you not to stage dive during the sound check."

We are genuinely excited about this exceptional experience and have a deep appreciation for the power of live performances. From the bottom of our hearts, we thank you for making this opportunity possible.
