Important about gear and other bands

We love playing with other bands, but if there's a support act they will have to work around our stuff after we've set it up. It's not that we're trying to be hard or rough, it's just that we like our stuff to be as they are after the soundcheck and we don't want to stress out or have a hassle just before the show. Of course we'll work the same way if we are the supporting band. When it comes to borrowing gear we can't really tell in advance but in general we can say that we prefer that we are the only ones who uses our gear and we don't lend our gear to bands that has drawn the conclusion that they can borrow it without asking.
