MIKEY BALL & THE COMPANY

Are twin guitars, heart felt solos and hard hitting, soul connecting rock, inspired by legends such as Bruce Springsteen, Bryan Adams and The Gaslight Anthem.

With a talent for reaching their audience with a fun show and poetic lyrics, Mikey Ball & The Company really are hard to ignore.

The band landed on the map, releasing their debut album to a packed local show in Bournemouth on 7th October 2022, gaining attention from promoters around the UK. Thus earning them support slots with the LA Maybe (USA) and Wicked Smile (Aus) to end the year. This set 2023 up for a festival appearance at the fan favourite Call Of The Wild, Lincolnshire, on the back of the first single release and secured a touring support place with Hearts & Hand Grenades late 2023 along with a spot on the line up for Station 18 Festival, Swansea.

After spending his formative years as a solo musician, Mikey decided it was time to try something totally different and formed his 'Company' line up in 2018: Chris Collins (Guitar), Dean Hurst (Bass) and Will Harris (drums). As the 4 piece grew and a new rockier edge came to the table, a real desire for new material pushed them on to record a full debut album in 2022. The first single 'The Morning' released that July flirts with its Gaslight Anthem influence to fine effect with its intertwining guitars leading into rousing choruses. This was quickly followed up with 'Burning All Night' which opens the album with Thin Lizzy-like twin guitars, Mikey's smoky vocals and the first of a long line of tremendous hooks. The full album entitled, 'Through the Night' was subsequently released on the 7th October 2022 and has captured the hearts of many old and new fans alike. 2023 saw Will Harris hand over percussion duties to Sam Hurst and an additional single release of the romantically cinematic track "Runnin'" in July, leading them into their next chapter.

“Led by Ball, this was a display of sheer enthusiasm for the music they've created and it was a difficult thing not to be infected by... the four-piece had certainly made a lot more friends and marked themselves out as ones to watch.” Get Ready To Rock

“It's infectious, as the barrier sees fans move forward to check out the likes of Misunderstood, Pressure, and One More Night. All songs from their 2022 album Through The Night, which I am sure gets picked up by a few new fans. Excellent stuff from start to finish.” Metal Talk
