

TWILE FEAT. LAURA LEHTOLA

Jarmo Huhta is a Helsinki-based musician, producer and film music composer. He releases and performs music both under his real name and under Twile alias.

Twile was originally a dubtechno-influenced project that later evolved into electronica / folktronica / trip-hop / post-punk project.

Jarmo Huhta's cinematic expression combines modern classical music, neofolk, ambient, free jazz and spoken word.

Huhta has released on several Central European labels. He has performed in Finland, Germany and United States.

He released his latest single (Jarmo Huhta: Northern Heartland, 2024) on the Finnish Separated By Space label.

His previous full-length album release (Jarmo Huhta: Midair, 2020) was released by German-based Midira Records.

Huhta has also made music and sound for several short films, art installations and theatre. In addition, he works as a producer for singer-songwriter Laura Lehtola. Huhta also has music in the library of MiniFilm, American film agency company.

Huhta has studied in Doctoral Program for Music, Theatre and Dance coordinated by Sibelius Academy.

He performed his spoken word and sound art piece Balloons at Avery Fisher Center for Music & Media in New York in November 2019.

Twile's Hunger Moon album will be released on British Cruel Nature Records in autumn 2024.

TWILE FEAT. LAURA LEHTOLA: BARRENLAND

“Twile is an electronic music project, where acoustic elements and vocals also play important roles. Behind the project is Jarmo Huhta, whose a couple of years ago released Midair album, was a delightfully nutty album of personal music. The same free approach also characterizes Twile's music, which is also based on electronic soundscapes, calmness of ambient and cinematic elements.

Initially Twile was supposed to be a dubtech project, but since then the development has developed in different directions. Guest vocalist Laura Lehtola makes the track sound like folktronica, and that's good. Nearly five and a half minutes long track draws a kind of super slow wave series in the sky. The keywords include also hypnotism. The patterns of the stringed instruments, the paths of the rhythms and the calmness of the vocals form a strange triangle – music you enjoy, unnoticed, more and more.”
