

Biography

Juan Pablo aka JP Hernández is a rising House music Dj & Producer originating from Chile. Following a childhood influenced by his father's love for music, JP grew up with a particular affiliation to Hip Hop and Jazz music; expressions of these genres in the tracks he produces today are through which, he is making a name for himself across South and Central America.

JP has built up a strong presence across the House music scene in his home town of Santiago, having played in some of the most popular clubs and venues. More recently JP has been switching up Chile's scene by inviting musicians to play alongside him in his carefully curated live sets named N'Kre Music. Through JP's creativity and amalgamation of different techniques, combining effects and live sounds, he has managed to create a truly unique atmosphere and clubbing experience.

With only 3 years of production experience, JP has already released an impressive number of tracks across many labels such as Purism, Nopreset Records, Induction Muzic, among others. With more releases in the pipeline and living in Europe now, JP is continuing to raise his profile and will bring his sound along with him.
