ABOUT KEVIN HEINEN...

Kevin Heinen, a young singer-songwriter from Luxembourg has been playing covers and composing his own music for several years in the privacy of his own bedroom.

But the time has come to unleash his striking songs on the world and you can't help be captivated by his soft, delicate and touching voice. Together with a melodic guitar sound, Kevin beckons you into his dreamy music world.

Listening to his own compositions and the covers Kevin performs in his own style, the likes of Ed Sheeran or James Blunt spring to mind and with good reason, as they are both great inspirations and indeed influences to his music.

Kevin has already played several gigs in small venues and at his school, but his special music style was really noticed when auditioning for Luxembourg's very own Eurovision "Gala Night" 2014. He made it through to the finals that take place in October where he will perform "Me And My Guitar" representing Belgium in front of about 1,000 people. Kevin is the only candidate playing totally live, while the other 15 contestants use backing tracks.

This is just the start of the road for Kevin Heinen and mesmerising charm that is his music.
