ABOUT MR FANGS

Upbeat pop melodies embedded with a touch of darkness is the true essence of Mr. Fangs. His musical journey began at the age of seven, when a single concert ignited his passion and set him on a path toward a career in music.

He honed his craft at the Royal Conservatoire in Spain, spending 10 years studying piano before venturing to London two years ago to pursue his dreams where he joined a studio as an independent artist.

Present day, you will find him gigging in the East London scene, regularly performing at intimate venues where he pours his heart into every performance, all while promoting his fresh, new singles.

WHAT'S NEXT...

This fall, Mr. Fangs will be releasing his first EP: "Danger Signs" which will be the first part of a bigger project called "A million ways of fearing love". In this EP, the artist will be exploring the most superficial and in-your-face fears and little demons that surround the idea of love.

What starts as a catchy, pop-infused anthem quickly shifts to something darker, weaving in electric guitars, booming basslines, and pulsating synths that will pull you into a dance you won't want to end.
