

Olivian Nour is a record producer and DJ from Bucharest, Romania. Raised in a musical family, music naturally became an interesting part of Oli's life from an early age.

By the end of 2008 Olivian built a small studio to produce his own sounds. This brought him to his first release on Zoo:Technique Records. The "Back 2 Back" EP was released on January 2010 and has been performed all around the globe; to name a few performers... Cristian Varela and Shane Johnson. Zoo: Technique Records released the second track from the ep "Deep silence" on "Summer Selection" – a compilation of best-selling songs of 2010.

Soon after that, Olivian Nour remixed for Nasty Boy. "Orange Orchestra" was part of "Drop The Bass" EP released on Tzinah Records in late October 2010. By the end of 2010, Escapism Musique released the song "1" and Recovery Tech included "1" in "Deep Touched-Deep House Selection Vol. 2" on November 2011, "University of Electronic Music Vol. 5" on December 2011 and "Get Hypnotized-A Unique Collection of Electronic Music Vol. 8" on January 2012. His "1" song has gathered a positive feedback from DJs like Andrew Grand, Alex Picone, Nekes, Omar Salgado, Cozzy D, Mirco Violi, Sasch BBC, Den Ishu and Jose Maria Ramon.

In 2011 Olivian Nour was coming back with "Oh Yee" released by Tzinah Records on March in the compilation "This is Tzinah" sharing the success with various artists as Ciupy & Mihai Bejenaru, Zemtsov, Nasty Boy, Sapriori and Faster. Encouraged by Tzinah Records Olivian Nour has launched "Boracay" EP containing the anthem "Boracay" and 4 remixes from Javier Carballo, Zemtsov, Octav Paul and Sapriori. This release is all about the Boracay feeling; Olivian Nour really captivated the world with the sound of the namesake beach. With a deep sound and wonderful percussion work, "Boracay" track was happy 2011 summer vibe that surely gets his fans attention. "Boracay" could be heard in any club from Ibiza, Miami or New York, played by Richie Hawtin, Andrew Grant, Philip Arruda, Mirco Violi, Mihai Popoviciu, Dirty Culture, Javi Bora, Dani Casarano, Pepe Arcade, Julian Perez, Javier Moreno, Feodor AllRight & Elema Mechta, Javier Carballo, Art Patrice, Hanfry Martinez, Francis White among many others. On November 2011, Essenza Records released his track "House Music at that time" as a part of house music compilation "VA Essenza Music Vol. 1".

2013 was the most prolific year for Oli, he brought in audience attention a whole gang of minimal and microhouse producers through his own record label, he gave birth to Melotherapy for the freedom of expressing feelings, emotions and ideas in his own productions. He also reinvented his career and musical vision with the project Cazer, released already by several record labels.

For 2015 Oli has releases already planned on Heisenberg, Ada Kaleh Romania, Valioso and his own record label Melotherapy. It will be a great year for Olivian Nour.
