

Tzlil Danin kicks off her solo project with a new single - City Friends. Released in Israel March 2015.

After years in the music industry, some as a producer and some on the big stages as part of the 'Metropolin' group, Tzlil releases a first EP on her name that exhibits the unique musical cocktail that she has been mixing over the years; a spicy electronic sound that dives through the deep of the Mediterranean.

A contemporary pop icon from Old Jaffa.

Tzlil chose to release her new material under a new format she named 3P; a 3-song EP which relates to the current season and mood. The first 3P, 'Let Go', produced by Roey Avital (Garden City Movement) and Yakir Ben-Tov (J-Viewz).

The first single 'City Friends' deals with urban alienation, friendship and love, characterizes with accurate, up-to-date aesthetics and enters the conversation of global pop. This theme is amplified in the music video, shot in the bustling, yet lonesome streets of Tokyo.

'Nice And Slow' the third and last single, will be out around mid-september.

The second single and theme song of the 3P 'Let Go', talks about the progress of setting the past free and phrasing an individual life manifesto. In the up-coming video clip, Tzlil gathered 3 of her younger cousins, each symbolizes a point on her own life timeline, a precious fossil capturing a moment in private history.

Throughout the year seasonal 3Ps will be released and performed as a concept concert, utilizing various visual and multi-disciplinary arts. In the last year Tzlil has focused on creating a team of young and upcoming creatives, who, together work on a unique and communicative visual language to accompany the music.
