

Kelvin Announce New Single Release 'Punching Bag' And Dates For Their UK Tour

Indie rock band Kelvin, have announced the release of their debut single 'Punching Bag' available on all digital providers from (date). Recorded at Grouse Lodge International Studios in Ireland and produced by Jim Lowe (Stereophonics, Foo Fighters, The Charlatans) 'Punching Bag' is an anthemic, guitar driven track, mastered by John Davis (Royal Blood, Lana Del Rey).

Kelvin consists of Connor McGlave (vocals, guitar), David Gillies (lead guitar), Bradley Revill (bass), Michael Biggart (drums) all hailing from Glasgow. Following the bands impactful start to 2015 with a highly successful UK & Ireland tour, Kelvin have spent the past 6 months recording their upcoming EP "It Is What It Isn't", due out (date) and have seen praise across the board for their energetic live performances and songwriting skills.

There is an infectious vibrancy of indie riffs throughout the record and its soaring chorus reflects Kelvin's ambition to become the next stadium band of their generation. The band began drip-feeding tracks after launching in February 2015 and since then have attracted a rapid growing fan base.

Kelvin is back on the road this October to support the latest EP release and more details can be found via the bands official site. 'Punching Bag' is the latest single from the young and thrilling new band and EP is available to pre-order now.
