

MIA KLOSE BIOGRAPHY

Think of a young Lita Ford, Debbie Harry or Pat Benatar treading the hard rock boards of Guns n' Roses, Skid Row and Bon Jovi, with a wardrobe that would impress Cindy Lauper and the sex appeal of Madonna! The origins of Mia's sound come from the golden era of 80's metal and rock. Her voice is powerful, her performance captivating and her songs memorably laced with heavy guitar riffs and catchy hooks. But that's where the 80s ends! This is truly Rock for the 21st Century.

• Mia was born into a life of music and performance, first taking to the stage at the age of 3. By 5 she was playing violin and went on to master many other instruments including drums and guitar. At 13 she was having singing lessons and started her own band, gaining entrance to Stockholm's prestigious 'Rytmus Musikkonservatorium' at the age of 15 where she studied alongside members of bands like H.E.A.T, Dynazty and Icona Pop. She moved to London straight after college where she enrolled at 'The British Academy of New Music' together with more of today's big artists such as Ed Sheeran and Rita Ora.

• Mia Klose's debut album "London" was released to critical acclaim† in August 2012 and a track from the album featured in the cover-mount CD of the December 2012 edition of 'Classic Rock AOR' together with a full page interview. "London" was written, recorded and performed by Mia, Melly and Danny Drama and was produced, mixed and mastered by Danny Drama with Mia and Melly at Dramageddon Studios, London.

She continued with a trip to Germany to support Steel Panther then back to the UK to support Reckless Love and Sebastian Bach in July. After a period of recording and songwriting, she will return with a brand new single and video in the autumn.

• Mia's smoking-hot stage performance is complemented by four masters of rock:- C-Rexx (bass), Jonny Nonsense (guitar), Kalle Arheden (guitar) and Henry Rogers, who was recently voted 7th best drummer of 2013 in PROG Magazine (drums). Mia has previously been joined on stage by guitarist Jonny Scaramanga who also played for Europe's 'Kee Marcello'.
