Physical Law is the first EP of a young musician who is known as Nularse by the audience, but his name is Alessandro Donin. The EP expresses many intense and strong emotions through electronic sounds, voice, and arpeggios. These combinations of tools create a dynamic and fluid balance that goes beyond imagination. Jonathan Calugi who was raised in Pistoia (IT), is the artist behind the EP's visual graphic and is also father of the Fresh Yo! concept. For Physical Law, the rising artist, Calugi, has developed different pieces of art for each song. The EP is composed in casual way, as memories are in the brain, and it would be a sort of trip inside a mind through images and remote memories.

"Nularse", in Claudine dialect "to cloud", describes the moment in which the sky becomes gray and it starts raining. It creates an atmosphere similar to a storm when the air becomes thick and smells water. It's the moment which the Nularse path starts. Nularse's emotions and thoughts are combined as a unique strong water front that is going to unload the accumulated water during the storm, which represents the new beginning. This creative Big Bag that combines life shapes and physical laws is anticipated by a primordial spark of incalculable power, which gives rise to everything.

It starts with a separation between two persons that is generated by a centrifugal force of their orbit, one linked to another (Say Hello). After this, there are a sweet and mystery emotion attractions of bodies and ideas with each other (Honey), in an interior space where time (Physical Law) represents either the beginning or the end of a new world (I Slowly Go).

In this artistic deflagration in which the musician concentrates his intellectual energies and physics, he transforms himself into a creator (Oh Song) through a trip in which he remains alone to deal with himself. Therefore, at the mercy of memories, which are colored and pushed by the wind, he relives the past with joy and has discovered the elements power and has learned to play with.

Say Hello - Videoclip

“Say Hello”, means (save my soul and let me go far away). Sometimes, it is useful to say goodbye and escape from others and ourselves. Francesco Camuffo, who directed the video, has composed it with a series of images taken during his permanence in the South of Asia. The video evokes succession of memories of exotic youth that are embellished by bright colors, palms, waves and places where the spectator can surf. The main character, who is a girl, starts as spectator, and at the video’s end she will become life’s actor. She lives these experiences with a bright light in her eyes, especially when she is jumping into the ocean, and while she is staring at the forest. “Say Hello” shows us the story of each of us, it shows the moment when we need to let our things go somewhere instead of keeping them inside us.

All scenes are taken from a short movie called “SPINNING TOP”, that is designed, written and directed by Francesco Camuffo. The main character is Beatrice Lanza and the soundtrack is by Nularse.

Oh Song - Videoclip

Oh Song is a game in which there are no words or meanings, but only wonder and thoughtlessness of a simple interjection, because the strongest feelings can not be expressed in words.

The theme of Oh Song is the nostalgic carefree, so you can see the objects of childhood, old record, music box, enclosing them in a circle frame, an "O " that is a porthole from which you can see what happens, an eye observing the various objects that are intertwined with one another.

Biografy

Nularse is Alessandro Donin, who is a producer and compositor from Veneto (IT), with a strong background as guitarist. His approach to the electronic music has been giving him the opportunity to create his music palate. The fusion between acoustic music, warmth voice and the strong structure of rhythm, generates synthetic and organic layers that are in continuous evolution of different elements. His music includes the sexuality of Rhythm and blues, melancholy folk ballet, dark and syncopated underground energy and exotic suggestions. Nularse, “cloud”, chose Fresh Yo! from his debut with the EP “Physycal Law”, he has dealt a musical path that would discover the lights and shadows of his soul.
