"They Think They're People" might be a tongue in cheek reference to how the band see themselves in the music scene, but there's nothing ironic about the music within. At 8 tracks deep, the band have given us everything from up-tempo and energetic live show favourites such as "Nowhere Fast" and "You Don't Know Me" to more laid back and psyche-rock-sleaze infused tracks like "Margins" and "Shine On". Also included on the record is the single released earlier this year, "Going To Hell", and newer material such as "Digging Up Dirt", "Go Love Yourself" and "Reckless" that lead on nicely from the sound of their previous album, Hail.

Three Kings High have toured nationally and will be embarking on UK & European dates in Autumn 2016. They have also supported established acts like Huey Morgan, The Milk, Molotov Jukebox & Craig Charles, playing main stages at a number of Festivals, as well as on corporate stages put on by Nokia. They have been championed by BBC Radio 6 & BBC Introducing as ones to watch.

Recent Quotes on Three Kings High:

"Three Kings High build their songs from strong guitar riffs and memorable choruses, their indie attitude willfully refuses to let them follow any of the signposts pointing to the obvious route" – CLASSIC ROCK MAGAZINE

"A band at the peak of their powers" – TOM ROBINSON, BBC RADIO 6

"It is a creation which shimmers with excitement and temptation. If one were to close one's eyes when one has this disc on, one is in a sweaty little basement club, surrounded by beer and fag fumes" – IS THIS MUSIC

"Three Kings High are just white boys doing dirty, black men funk rawk and they're making it fun and they're making it impossible to take the piss out of them" – UNPEELED

"It's an addictive album, it's just finished and I've got to have another blast of it. Like it a lot" – BAUER MEDIA

"Fans of Arctic Monkeys, RHCP and Jungle will enjoy their surging energy, while their neo-soul, punk rock waves and shimmering melodies hit all the right notes" – BRISTOL LIVE MAGAZINE

"...Three Kings High are fucking amazing!!" – CRAIG CHARLES, BBC RADIO 6
