

HEY KAREN

Hey Karen is a music project established by Bartek Urban – a singer/songwriter and a producer. His music is a unique mix of indietronica, synthpop and electroclash. His newest album, „Yes Yes No No”, will be out in early 2017.

Hey Karen composes tracks of such unpredictable structures, so it's impossible to know where each track will go. Chiptunesque electro attacks you from the very start with its density, distinctly clear rhythm and clever electronic additions.

~ We Are From Poland

Hey Karen's music is like carpet bombing. Just grand artillery with fat beats (...) He created his own music genre, where music and vocals live in utopian symbiosis, and the artist himself has the most fun with it. His beats sound like they're coming straight from West Coast – it's a higher level of sound, especially combined with his hypnotizing voice.
