

Disgusting Beauty is a duet born in Berlin that blends together poetry, electronic rhythms and new wave sounds. Formed by Silver Cendrey (vox and lyrics, France) and Francisco Parisi (guitars, programming and live looping), the band is already taking its already unique sound to the streets of Berlin after a promising debut in Keller.

Their sound has been described as a mix of the Joy Division melancholy with the poetic imagination of Jim Morrison, bringing the audience to a new level of consciousness... to be provoked, seduced and intrigued.
