Viele sind LAUT

Viele spielen SCHNELL

...aber SIE spielen mitten ins HERZ

Jerx are the guys, who set out like all the others, to conquer the world, only to realize: ya gotta stay true to yourself. They’ve landed at a major record label, enjoyed success in the charts and on celebrated tours and are sought-after producers and songwriters. But now they pulled something off that others only dream about: producing their third studio album completely autonomous and independently. They didn’t sell out even in times when more and more bands – formerly working in the darkest recesses of rock'n'roll – are now worshiping at the shrine of the casting and synthetic gods.
Never completely politically correct (thankfully!) or biodegradable but with only the finest, handmade guitar noise from 100% homemade productions. Jerx created an homage to the spirit of good old rock'n'roll while staying in the here and now and remaining entirely authentic. Angry. Empathetic. Direct.
