

SYNIKALL

Synikall, described as having the angst and energy of early Beastie Boys by BBC Introducing and as a 'true-school' rapper and UKHH.com, is from the humble beginnings of Birmingham and started his career in music as a DJ in Ayia Napa.

After returning to the UK, he began making his own music and networking in the local hip hop scene, quickly gaining attention and sharing stages with both Professor Green and Labrinth amongst others.

In 2013, Synikall was signed to Dutch label Black Hole Recordings. However, after the lack of control over his own music, he was motivated to start his own record label with his long-time hype man NT which they named Melee Recording Group. Since it's inception, Synikall started working on his next project, The Grandeur Trilogy.

He recruited the likes of The Freestylers, Jagged Hedz and Trademark Blud to feature on the 1st edition of 3, Evolution Of Grandeur EP and the first single, Who Got The Buzz, reached #11 in the Official UK Club Charts in April 2016.

The EP itself was released 4th November 2016 for free download alongside the single 'Illusions Of Grandeur' feat. Trademark Blud which has been very well received, featuring on many blogs and radio shows.
