

BAD MOOD

"Bad Mood are doing it properly.

No open-mic acoustic spots for these agitators – every gig is a matter for noise and confusion. And tunes... the four piece punk art riot haven't forgot those. Just as well, really, as they have something to say."

Liverpool etc

Formed from the shit, debris and ash swept up from the streets after another protest in the name of the will of the people, Bad Mood arrived in late '15.

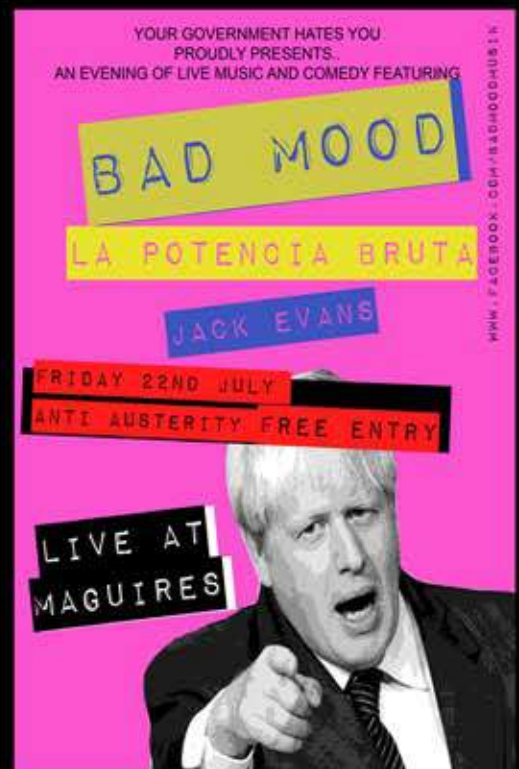

Conjuring the sights and sounds of a low at heel existence living in England's reluctant city, Liverpool – the message is clear... escapism through music, drink, poetry, dreams and never forgetting your roots. Expect tales of armchair kings, back alley killers, the 9 to 5 insomniac, and forging a new utopia.

With a sound that carves a line somewhere between insight and plain aggression, the mood marches on alive and growing in numbers.

Gig poster for Maguire's event organised by Bad Mood.

Bad Mood have played sell out shows at the Jacaranda and Maguires and have been played on many local stations such as Chris Currie's Wirral Radio new music show and have even been picked up as far as Canada on Dr Bones' show.

The band have captured their catchy guitar angst and acid lyrics on the single 'Ya Missed It' which will be released on 13th October '17. This will follow previous singles 'May 2nd' and 'Grungeblues' which were released in 2016.

Radio Play and Media Coverage

"Tunes often start on a brilliant bass line and turn taut on false finishes, tempo changes and the stutter-and-awe of a tightly wound Telecaster. The twin guitar attack sounds great, all sturm und drang, while the tunes themselves take on the times we're living in."
Liverpool etc - July 2016

"Their music is much more confrontational, aimed at making an impact and breaking down barriers rather than being just dance floor fodder. Tonight the band give it their all, playing some of the 15 new tracks they have written for a forthcoming album. Stand out tracks are Grungeblues, Ya Missed It and Tell Me but the whole set is strong and well received by Night and Day Sunday crowd."
Flick of the Finger - August 2016

"Self-described as 'socialist puke punk', they're a more thoughtful beast than you might think, and their righteous ire is beginning to turn heads in the city."
The Skinny - July 2016

"March 26th sees the release; ironically, of May 2nd which is a mean and moody initiation into their work. Doom-laden vocals and menacing guitar make this a deliciously dark listen."
Ralph's Blog - February 2016

"Edgy and tenebrous, there's a gravity and unease about Bad Mood's debut single hard to shake; and just to be clear: with moody, heavy-hearted vocals at work, the tingling dark vibe emanating from 'May 2nd' is only intensified. A brooding and thrilling lead-in for the Liverpool 4-piece, and no bleak outlook ahead."
