

Skuldpadda is Gothenburg, Sweden based indie band with a large musical landscape. Their songs vary from soft pop to crispy kraut rock which makes them a dynamic live act. They were founded in the summer of 2016 and have since then played many of the well-known stages in Sweden. Skuldpadda released their EP, Honeymoon, in 2017 and their debut full-length album is coming this fall. Their live gigs are something you don't want to miss as they have a reputation for their energetic performances and always having fun on the stage.
