

LAPWINGS

INDIE POP ROCK from BERLIN

Praise for Lapwings

"Vibrating compositions, with a sensitivity close to Leonard Cohen," - Pierre Paulus, Classic 21 (Belgian radio)

"Hats off," - Anke Behlert, Detektor FM

« Far from the well-travel paths of current mainstream, modest as well as ingenious, ... with captivating cello solos," - Jason Jay Pagnier, Melting pop blog

« A wonderful organic sound », Christoph Brandl, Lie in the Sound blog

INDIE FOLK ROCK from BERLIN

Lapwings' unique organic sound is hard to put in a box or music genre, just like his front-man Jeal, Belgian scientist who cut his ties with the corporate world in Belgium to give flight to his musical ambitions in Berlin. Add to that the international dimension of the band (Natasha, Cello, USA - Klari, Drums, Germany - Marco, Bass, Italie) and you have a melting pot of influences, by turns wistful and then jauntily upbeat, all bedded in rich strings, with a pinch of various pop rock and singer songwriter influences (Arcade Fire, The Lumineers, Coldplay's early years, Neil Young, Passenger...).

Lapwings first debut-EP received enthusiastic feedback in 2015 for their fresh and organic sound and was played by several German and Belgian radios in 2016 (Classic 21, Radio Ostfriesland, Radio Q, Radio Rüsselsheim, Detektor FM, EchoFM, Radio Feierwerk):

In 2017, Lapwings released a song in French against far right parties and racism, with a strong highly-engaging animation video which got 45 000 views (251 shares) on social media and YouTube in one month:

Currently, Lapwings is going to release their new dark melodic pop rock single "Masquerade", a poignant melancholy love song supported by poetic lyrics and an elegant arrangement of cello and guitars transporting the audience into various vibrant atmospheres throughout the song, with an arty and thoughtful music video. The song was produced in Berlin by Enda Gallery (Charity Children, Kid Simius) and recorded at Tommy Hein Studio (Nick Cave, Korn).

2018 is going to be a busy year for Lapwings, the band preparing their summer gigs, an Fall tour in Germany, Switzerland and Belgium and being currently in studio to record a new set of songs and videos.

Side note: Jeal and Natasha have been very active to help the Berlin musician community and created Music Suit Up, currently the biggest Meetup group in Berlin for artists to connect and learn tips from music industry professionals.
