

NOVUSTORY

Press Releases:

Akademia – “With exceptional vocals, machine gun snare work and refined guitar riffs, Novustory has created a collection of songs embodying that which is most intriguing in the alt rock art form”.

Even The Stars (Manchester Music Blog) – “A three-piece from Tottington near Bury fronted by the iron-lunged Imogen Story who boasts an impressive vocal range that's soulful in parts but can also pull off full on rock in others accompanied by Ben Cross on guitar and James Duckworth on drums. They've got a big sound that so many new bands take an age to master and they write songs that grab your attention early on and hold it through the intensity of the performance and the sheer quality of the songs”.

IMO (Music Blog) – “I do not know how these guys do it but they manage to fill songs entirely, by only having this three point combination. Some may say unorthodox, but they have got the tunes that make you move. I have to say, I've heard a 5 piece band try and fill a song and they wouldn't even come close to how well these guys are doing it “.

metalashesofphoenix: This is another band that I'm going to put on my 'must go and watch again' list.
