Playing 1gr5 festivals this summer was a truly hot tone for Gudrun von Laxenburg. Now, Austria's best Rave band seeks their natural habitat – packed clubs trembling with the dancing of the sweating crowd. After the release of their debut album “Panic!” and the epic music videos that came with it, as well as their most recent single „Brawler“ the Viennese Techno trio is preparing their next publications for fall 2018. Equipped with their sparkling stage set-up and gleaming suits and accompanied by dancing Unicorns, Gudrun von Laxenburg are “on the road” again and bring their tasty raves to Clubs throughout Austria and Switzerland.

the press about „Panic!:

In the recent years they groomed a musical vision that screams „Madness!“ Radio FM4

[...] an absolutely breathtaking journey of texture, rhythm, and soul. Your EDM

Alongside their reputation as connoisseurs of the live circuit, their first album will solidify their place within dance music's most refined discography. EDM Boutique

With the label of Fatboy Slim at their backs they capture their brachial live energy on record and let an Austrian Techno fairy tale become reality on an international scale. Volume.at

For their debut „Panic!“, Gudrun von Laxenburg alias July Skone (Drums), Daniel Helmer (Synthesizer, Vocoder, Sampler) and Christoph Mateka (Bass- & Lead-Synthesizer) worked together with outstanding producer Zebo Adam (Bilderbuch, and many more) at beat4feet Studios in Vienna.
