

"Incredibly gifted young songwriter"
Adam Walton, BBC Radio Wales

"One to watch!"
- BBC Introducing

The young singer songwriter should fill out adeed poll and change his name to The Alchemist - as everything he touches turns to gold.
- David Owens, Music Critic

Tom Auton

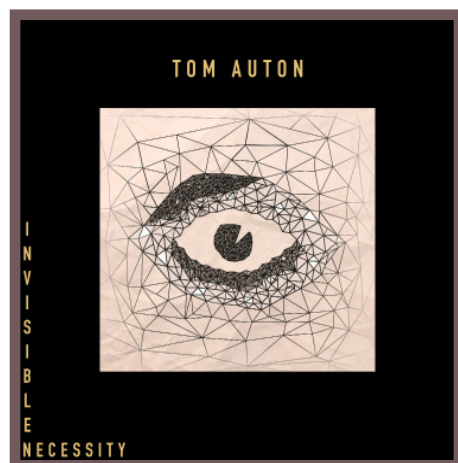

BIG LITTLE GLASS BOWL

Self taught musician, Tom Auton will be releasing his highly anticipated EP Big Little Glass Bowl on September 14th 2018.

"I spent months hitting my head against the wall. How on earth do you build a colossal fanbase overnight?! Then I realised; it's useless being a 'small fish in a big pond', I need to be a 'BIG fish in a SMALL pond'. I'm wasting time splashing about, trying to be heard by every single person on the planet, It's my hometown I need to pour myself back into. A crowd draws a crowd. It's this new mindset that inspired me to plunge back into Cardiff, put on my first headline show which subsequently sold out at 150 capacity.

Big Little Glass Bowl is for not only my pond but all the other musicians who are trying to be a small fish." - Tom Auton.

Influenced by Royal Blood and John Mayer, the singer-songwriter has already made his mark, breaking the top 8 in Fender's Undiscovered Artist of the Year Award, showcasing himself to an audience of over 5 million. Tom also achieved first place at both Open Mic UK and Future Music Songwriting competition. After supporting the likes of Jack Savoretti and touring with Galaxies Collide, Tom has been highly supported by BBC Radio Wales, BBC Radio Kent and Radio Cardiff.
