

Northern Germany's finest thrashers REZET unveiled their latest jewel in fall of 2017. The EP „You Asked For It“ is raging through the speakers in 4 diversified tracks. Acting more direct and less dissolute on this release, the band is more or less going back to their roots, unveiling the very core of its style: unleashed, highly energetic and brutal Thrash Metal. The high complexity of previous REZET arrangements has stepped aside to allow for the four youngsters' most brutal and striking material up to date. In which they succeed with a statement!

„Minority Eraser“, opener and Video/Single-release of the EP (<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=rUXCcQw10Ak>), has REZET talk about social and political problems in a true thrash-/punk fashion, coming up with probably the most brutal song in the band's history. „Thrash Their Hate“ is yielding a reminiscence to Kreator, whilst „Friendly Fire“ technically is the most Old-School REZET song on this release. Wrapping up the tracklist is a remake of Dead Kennedys' smash „Chemical Warfare“. The EP was recorded and produced with producer Eike Freese in Hamburg's very own „Chamaleon Studios“.

Ricky Wagner and his mates have shredded an impressive exclamation point and once again the overall band's tightness benefits from the 12-13 year old metal kids which formed the band back then and continuously designed this sound.

The band just finished recording the long awaited next long player titled „Deal With It!“, to be released in February of 2019. Again with top notch producer Eike Freese in Hamburg, Germany, this upcoming album will be leading the way for REZET's future years. Very mature, even more diverse. Fasten your headphones!
