

TÚS NUA /// post-rock, shoegaze, dream /// Zagreb, Croatia

For fans of: Mogwai, Sigur Rós, Slowdive, DIIV, Warpaint

Tús Nua was formed in 2014 but has been properly active since 2016, when the current band members started playing together. The band released an EP called Existence in April of 2014. Tús Nua's first album Horizons was released in September 2017 and is available on their Bandcamp page; first single from the album, called Matches, was released in July 2016, followed by the second single Geysir, which was released in July 2017, and the third single There's a thin line between everything, released in March 2018. Horizons takes the known and the unknown from everyday life and turns it into atmospheric music with short lyrics, and ambiguous meanings, taking you on a journey you can experience in a hundred different ways. The album was featured on many music charts as (one of) the best album(s) of 2017, including muzika.hr, mixeta.net, zihet.hr, terapija.net, Radio Študent, beehype, and many more. The song „Fight!“ off this album was featured on KEXP as the song of the day January 9, 2018. In January 2018, Tús Nua also became a part of the Seattle based label Weltraum-Wal Records, which released their album Horizons on cassette in May 2018.

Since releasing Horizons, Tús Nua played Croatia, Serbia, Hungary, Slovenia, and Austria, and planning a European tour in November 2018. During the summer of 2018, Tús Nua played numerous festivals including INmusic Festival, Indirekt, Hoomstock, Tam-tam music festival, and more. One of the biggest milestones for Tús Nua was supporting God is an Astronaut at their Ljubljana gig October 12, 2018 at Kino Šiška. They also performed at one of the best showcase festivals in Europe, MENT. Right now, the band is working on its second album, which was announced with the first single from it, called „Ride“ with an accompanying music video. You can catch Tús Nua live this summer at various festivals such as Inmusic festival, Wrongfest or Šakan festival or during their European tour in November.

Tús Nua plays a blend of post-rock, shoegaze, and a little bit of everything, and is currently based in Zagreb, playing and working on their second album while promoting Horizons.

Tús Nua are Jordi Ilić (guitar/vocals/synths) and Jelena Božić (guitar/vocals/synths).

„Horizons“ is the best debut record of the year and we believe that it is only the start of one great career.“ – (beehype)

"Tús Nua' create a stunning mix of atmospheric post-rock intertwined with blissful shoegaze and dreamy vocalisations that will leave you floored." – (Primal Music)

„After just a short listen, it was clear to me that Horizons would be one of the best albums of this year. I like it the most when something surprises me, and knocks me off my feet, and that's exactly what happened with this album. It might not be everything I usually like, but it's mixed into one magnificent story which is really hard to resist – in short, this is a dreamy post-rock dream-pop which isn't scared to incorporate many other alternative genres into its music.“ – (Siniša Miklaužić, Muzika.hr)

„Tús Nua sound even mightier and more convincing live, and the Hidden Stage was filled with people, which they achieved with no problem. Three girls on guitars, and strong distortion with only a few vocals. Their dreamy melodies sound great.“ – (Sound Guardian)

„This band could have a beautiful future because we're talking about seriously good music which, in some ways, sounds to me as a mixture of Alice in Chains and Depeche Mode, but also Mogwai, Sigur Rós, and those similar to them.“ – (Nikola Knežević, MusicBox)

"Tús Nua' have this uncanny knack of building tracks slowly, before twisting and morphing them into massive melancholic beasts that teeter nervously on brilliantly executed drum patterns. Their tracks linger on addictive passages of guitar before diving headlong off the edge into mesmerisingly deep pools of shimmering shoegaze orientated instrumentation before climbing out and starting all over again." – (Del Chaney, Primal Music)

„Tús Nua is a completely different musical refreshment in our area, and their post-rock/noisy shoegaze sound takes us away into a magical world of daydreaming.“ – (Nataša Lazukić, 6yka)

„New song 'Matches' sounds half like something from The Hunger Games soundtrack, and half like something dreamy and otherworldly that Daughter would write.“ – (Lauren Wood, Allthingsles)
