"We arrived with the aim of watching a pop-rock concert and we saw much more than that: we tasted rock, much soul, sometimes funk and even psychodelia. An explosive mix only fit on the stage for real professionals with great talent, that know how to add value to every note they play".

//Wake and Listen

<http://www.wakeandlisten.com/cronica-betamotion-madrid-2014/>

"That night the audience was taken with Betamotion and their music managed to obtain a positive reaction; beginning by Wake Up the concert went onto tunes like All That I Want or These Walls, each song embellished with strong visual elements as were the hypnotizing videos projected".

"Their way of seeing life and music is tatoed on their guitars, basses, drums and voices".

//Nos Gusta la Música

Believe me, this is music (album)

"Their music is a clear-structured pop-rock with a certain nostalgic touch and black aromas that could brighten the bluest day or cheer up the usual morning traffic jam."
