The last ten years have been somewhat of a turbulent ride for John Prasec. From zero to hero and back whilst swimming with sharks in the music industry, minus a life jacket.

John Prasec first dabbled at song writing, way back when he was 18, hitting the Italian iTunes with a bang at No 44. The band has played to a crowd of over 4000 people, and John has had notable performances as front man to bands, "Wicked in their summer tour of 2012, and Ritual. During their reunion tour of 2014. To add to these sweet dreams, John has also sung alongside Europe's guitarist, Kee Marcello amongst others.

John Prasec continues to propel his band forward into 2020, with determination, enthusiasm and pride, with both feet firmly on the ground. Although destiny has almost certainly played its part. Throw in blood, sweat and tears into the mix, and you have LBC Records. The 2014 ep, "John Prasec" and the 2017 album, "Unchained." Released to good reviews, loud audience applause, and the devil horns.

In 2018 John Prasec first visited Argentina as a part of his "Unchained Tour"

This heavy Rock artist continues to excel, with powerful, original material that engages its audience with every chord. He aims to thrill, and do, time and time again, leaving their fans wanting more. John Prasec is bound for glory, but be warned. No matter where his ship sails, he'll be having a rocking good time getting there. . and so will you, if you hang around for the trip
