

ELECTRIC LITANY

'Under A Common Sky' is the third album from London based four-piece Electric Litany. The 9 tracks were written in Corfu in a beach house during the summer of 2017 before being recorded at Fish Factory North London by producer George Botis.

This album is Electric Litany's most ambitious recording to date. Inspired not only by the nocturnal nature of the island but also the humanitarian climate in which we find ourselves. There are also moments of lightness with songs such as Bedroom sounding as if it could have been written in the mid 70s and first single 'England' which features ethereal synths reminiscent of Phil Collins.

'Under a common sky' has already gained international attention with the release of the video teaser for intro track "Azure" on One RPM's YouTube playlist. The first single "Sealight" will be released October 2019 and is accompanied by a video from award winning director Sakari Lerkkanen.

The second single "Refugee" will feature a video by Morgan Matijasik.

'Under a common sky' will be released in September 2019 through One RPM, Apollon Records and Inner Ear Records.
