WHAT IS GOLAN ABOUT?

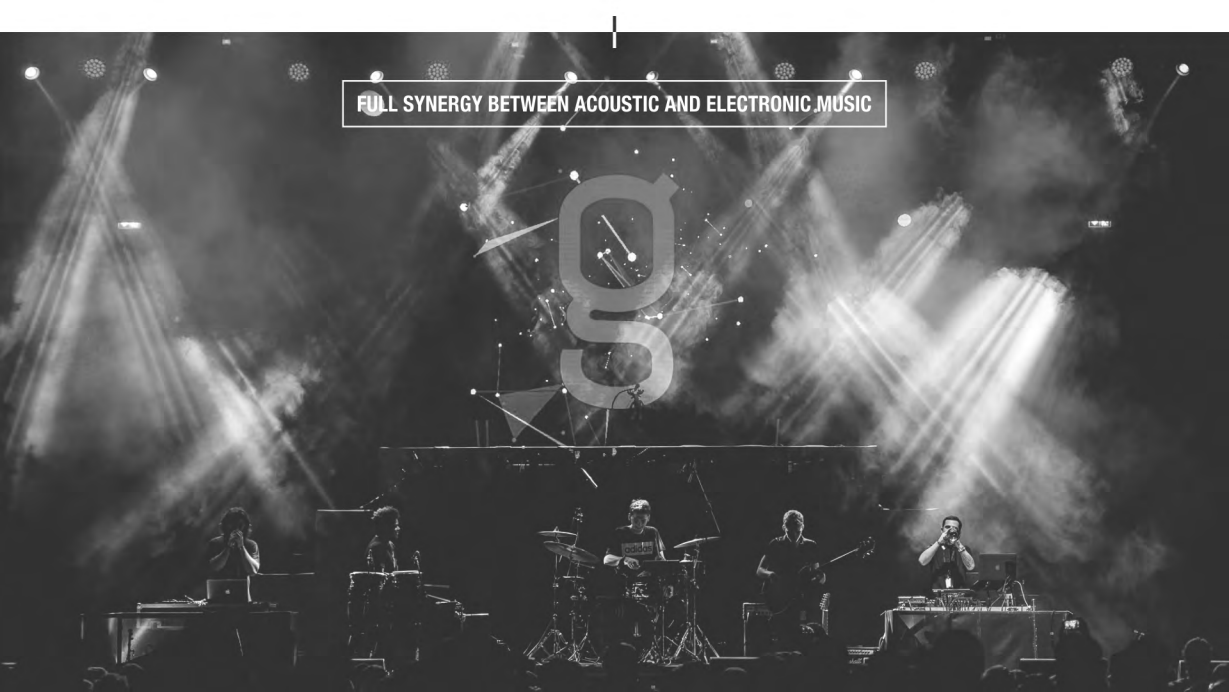

Coming from different musical backgrounds, the now five active members of Golan have cultivated a recognizable sound of their own.

By mixing a vast array of instruments, both live and in the recording studio, they deffinetly stand out.

FULL SYNERGY BETWEEN ACOUSTIC AND ELECTRONIC MUSIC

Formed in 2014, the group has had one of the fastest ascents on the Romanian electronic music scene.

Quick to establish band status, they have been largely credited for bringing a whole new feel/vibe to their niche, much more so through their intense, remarkable live shows.

The authenticity and ever evolving complexity of their music and live shows made way for a fast-growing fanbase at home, while also becoming a new addition to many European indie festivals and events.

A COMPLEXITY OF SOUNDS

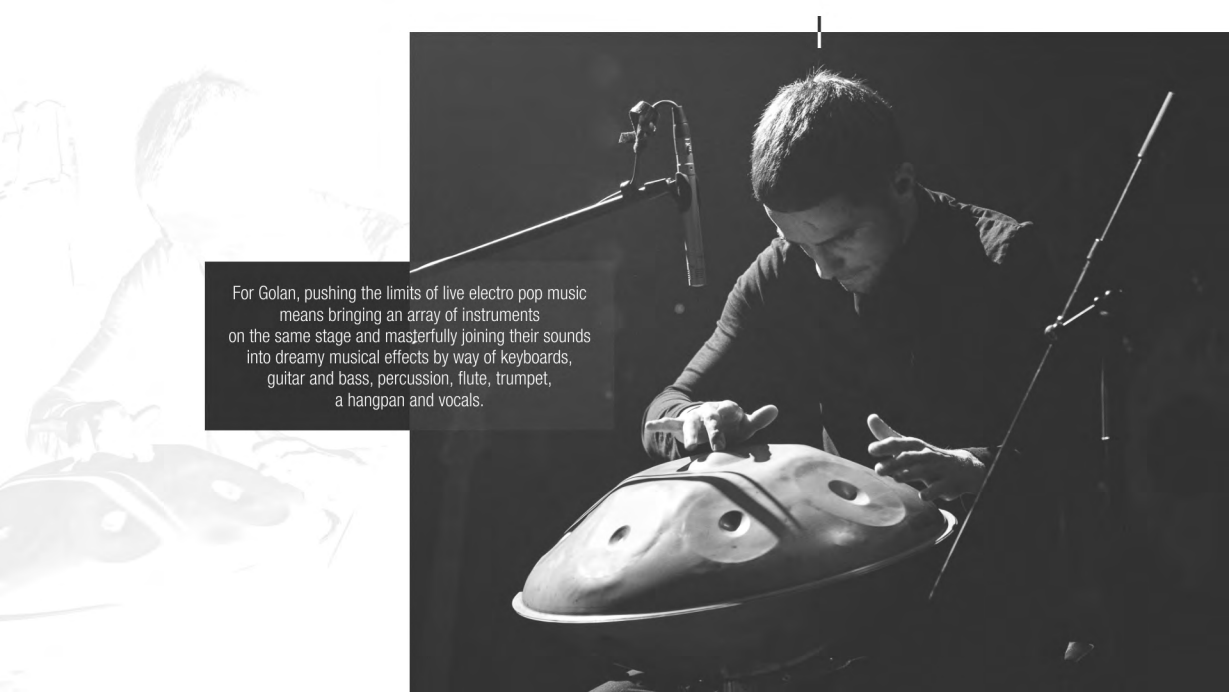

ELECTRONIC MUSIC PLAYED LIVE

From one side of the stage to the other, you have Alex (keyboards, flute, trumpet and the hang pan drum), Florian (bass, guitar and synths), Iulian (drums), followed by Ernesto (percussions) and Mihai (vocals, live sampling, Dj).

The variety of live instruments, vocals, sampling and Dj-ing balance each other perfectly and bring that organic feel to their electronic performance.

For Golan, pushing the limits of live electro pop music means bringing an array of instruments on the same stage and masterfully joining their sounds into dreamy musical effects by way of keyboards, guitar and bass, percussion, flute, trumpet, a hangpan and vocals.

ACHIVEMENTS AS AN INDEPENDENT BAND

They have extensively showcased their musical skills in over 100 gigs annually, ranging from festivals to club events and parties, from concert venues to private events.

Touring with Parov Stelar throughout Europe's biggest cities and on their own at international festivals like Sziget, Open'er Festival, United Islands of Prague, Fête de l'Europe, Europa Vox, Frequency Festival, Burg Clam Festival, Festival au Board de L'eau, Malwiese Festival, Eurosonic, Budapest Showcase Hub Festival along a few others.

Opening act for Roisin Murphy in Vienna and Bucharest and for Kings of Leon, also in Bucharest.

Their established band status gained them top spots at the main music festivals in Romania: Electric Castle, Untold, Awake Festival, Timeshift, Afterhills, Neversea and others.

In 2015, Golan released their first EP with Motor Entertainment, followed by the second, this time with Etage Noir, in 2016. The following year, the group signed their first album deal with Universal Music in Romania and internationally, in 2018.

With an evergrowing fan base, Golan jumped in just 6 months from being known as the only Romanian niche band that sold out its album launch event (2k people), to the only Romanian band that has sold out Arenele Romane open air venue (5k people), becoming the first Romanian band to have international acts opening their show for the release of their album: J.Bernard and Fhin.

ABOUT INTRO

OUR FIRST ALBUM

I N T R O

I N T R O

INTRO is a testimony of what Golan's musical journey has meant, from the very first beginning to the present day.

The 14 tracks come from a very close and personal approach that each member shared through their own creative standpoint, resulting in what some might say "supremely refreshing".

The album includes 11 videos depicting live performances and official releases directed by some of the best reviewed creatives in the industry.

...A DIFFERENT KIND OF STORY, A DIFFERENT VIBE.

Not just a studio band, but a full live band capable of creating impact and moving audiences with their music in every corner of the world.

The perfect way in which the instruments are mixed and join forces creates a vibe that transcends time and space.

Their live act feels as if from another galaxy and is consolidated visually by the band's own signature light show and graphics.

3 ACTS SUCCES STORY

Presented in 2016 in front of 30K+ audience, as part of the IMAPP show in Bucharest (largest video mapping contest in Europe), the first Golan Symphonic was a bet that the band won. If the outcome was any other than a huge success, next year wouldn't have existed.

2017 took the same concept, adapted it to fit our new freshly launched album - added 40 more orchestra players, moved it to a location dedicated to our fans, Arenele Romane, an impressive 10K capacity venue in Bucharest.

When it hit, it hit so hard that it created a current among other local artists - create a symphonic show of their own.

We always took as a challenge to improve our live shows.

Time proved us right and numbers speak for themselves: 2018, 5500 ticket payers, 3 foreign artists as a opening acts and a lot of dancing and happy faces.

ANIMA

NEW SINGLE

"Our latest single Anima, released in April 2020, was received with enthusiasm by the specialty online press, shared by established local brands and instagramed by fans."

Taking time. Take one's time. Take up time. Romanian group, Golan, has taken time to release the long-awaited sophomore album since their first studio album - 2017's, Intro.

With new single, "Anima," the group takes their time, something an artist can do when they know they're sitting on gold. And they can have my time, again and again, as I listen to their smooth harmonies, rolling beats and perfect pace.

"Hope you give it the necessary time," a delicate plea that marked my first encounter with Golan.

With a track like this, that seems to be the best approach - just take your time with it. Let the slow-pace move you like a deep red wine that pairs well with the beautifully stylized video.

Now that we've introduced wine into this post, the next best step is to pour a glass, put your feet up, and take your time with "Anima."

WHAT'S NEXT?

Our sophomore album is to be released in late 2020.

After the release of Anima, will continue to put out new songs and promote our music and tour as much as this crazy year will allow us.
