

The ONLY Indian Woman to win a GRAMMY

TANVI SHAH is an award-winning Recording Artist/ Songwriter and one of the most sought after voices in the music industry today. She was among the women recognized as a SUPER WOMEN ACHIEVER at the 6th World Women Leadership Congress Awards, 2019!

Tanvi shot to fame when she won the prestigious GRAMMY AWARD for Best Song Written for Motion Picture or Other Visual Media for her Spanish lyrics for the song "Jai Ho" from SLUMDOG MILIONAIRE (2010), an award she shared with maestro A. R RAHMAN and lyricist GULZAR. She is the first Indian woman to have won this coveted award.

She also shares the World Soundtrack Award (2009) with Rahman and Gulzar besides receiving the BMI Award in 2009 in London for the same track.

La Toya Jackson

While she has done her fair share of playback singing for the film industry in India, she is an INTERNATIONAL STAR.

This versatile singer's appeal lies in the fact that she can sing in several different languages, which has won her fans across the world.

Tanvi sings in Spanish, Portuguese, Afro-Cuban, Arabic besides Hindi, Tamil and Telugu and experiments with a wide range of music with her band.

Her adaptability has been proven in her collaborative work with international music producers such as Jeremy Hawkins (USA), Che Pope (USA), David Batteau (USA), and DJ Salah of Germany.

Tanvi has walked the green carpet at the Latin Grammy in 2011 while promoting her song, "Lluvia Lejana", and has also shared the stage with Lebohang Morake, South African singer and composer, famous for arranging and performing the music for The Lion King movies and stage productions.

She has also performed at the prestigious Nobel Peace Prize Concert in Oslo.
