CD SELECTION

Unlike the United States to Germany and Great Britain, France, the rock and fusion side of jazz is out of order for several years. Outside the fashions and clichés (here, this style has consistently been considered by critics as questionable because of its success), some persist. Post Image with twenty years of age, six albums, stable in the composition of its staff. With Pulse, the band is true to its history of sound-influences from Miles Davis and Weather Report. He had gained a fluidity of expression resourced in the world music. This time, they are discreet electronic touches and rhythmic vibrations that reflect its evolution. The talent of musicians is dedicated to music, their conversation is collective and dynamic.

Post Image : "Impulsion"

In twenty years this group from Bordeaux has seen many excellent musicians, magnetized by the quality of its founders, Dany Marcombe (fretless bass), Freddy Buzon (trumpet) and Patricio Lameira (guitars) and by their music, the offspring of jazz fusion invented at the dawn of 70s by Miles Davis and Weather Report. The most amazing with the Post Image group (nowadays a sextet) is its ability to avoid the pitfalls of a jazz style often spoiled by virtuosity, mostly in vain. Post Image gives jazz back its original freshness.

Congratulations.
